Recommendation memorandum for the Director

FROM	Matt Cameron, Taskforce Staff Director, x5-7708 Nat Weber, Chief of Staff, 5-9517
THROUGH	Andrew Duke, Policy Associate Director, External Affairs and CEE
SUBJECT	Request for Information to Assist the Taskforce on Federal Consumer Financial Law

Recommendations

We recommend that you:

1. Review and sign the attached Decision Memorandum (Tab 1), which would (a) authorize the issuance and publication in the Federal Register of a Request for Information to Assist the Taskforce on Federal Consumer Financial Law (RFI, Tab 3); and (b) delegate authority to staff to make non-substantive changes prior to publication; and
2. Sign the attached three signature pages in blue ink (Tab 2).

Timing Considerations

Our goal is to publish the RFI in the Federal Register ~~the week of or shortly after~~ March 16, 2020, which will commence the public comment period. Thus, we recommend issuing the RFI and submitting it to the Office of the Federal Register as soon as possible.

Background

In January 2020, the Director established the Taskforce on Federal Consumer Financial Law (Taskforce) pursuant to the executive and administrative powers conferred on the Bureau by sections 1013(a) and 1021(c) of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank Act). The Taskforce is charged with (1) examining the existing legal and regulatory environment facing consumers and providers of consumer financial products and services; and (2) reporting its recommendations for ways to improve and strengthen Federal consumer financial laws, including recommendations for resolving conflicting requirements or inconsistencies, reducing unwarranted regulatory burdens in light of market or technological developments, improving consumer understanding of markets and products and services, and identifying gaps in knowledge that the Bureau should address through future research. Where possible and within time constraints, the Taskforce's report may include recommendations relating to the 18 enumerated consumer laws and titles X and XIV of the Dodd-Frank Act, including those provisions relating to unfair, deceptive, or abusive acts or practices.

We recommend issuing the RFI to assist the Taskforce in obtaining information about financial services markets and to give members of the public the opportunity to inform directly the Taskforce's work. The RFI requests comment and information from interested parties on which areas of the financial services markets are functioning well—that is, which areas are fair, transparent, and competitive—and which might benefit from regulatory changes that could facilitate competition and materially increase consumer welfare. The RFI asks a series of questions about the market for consumer financial products and services, including questions about products and services such as credit and mortgage products; obstacles to financial inclusion; use of consumer data; regulations the Bureau writes and enforces; and federal and state coordination. The Taskforce intends to use the public comments to inform its analyses and recommendations regarding federal consumer financial law.

Release Sequence and Cadence Plan

The Bureau will announce the RFI on March DD, 2020. The Division of External Affairs proposes the following rollout plan.

Pre-Roll Out Outreach

- On March DAY, 2020, will have confirmed that the Office of Management and Budget will post the RFI to the public registry on March DAY, 2020.
- On March DAY, 2020, the Office of Executive Secretariat will send the RFI to all senior staff (Policy Associate Directors, Associate Directors, and Deputy Associate Directors).
- On March at 11 am, the communications staff will issue the press release

11:01 PM EA Distributes Press Release to Stakeholders

When prompted by the Stakeholder Management Front Office, Stakeholder Management offices will email the press release to stakeholders. This coordinated strategy ensures that all stakeholders receive the materials at the same time. Materials are distributed to the following stakeholder groups:

- ABC: All current advisory committee members
- OFIBL: Industry representatives and trade organizations
- OIGA: Federal, state, local, and tribal government entities
- OLA: Legislative Distribution Email List
- OPECL: Consumer advocacy and nonprofit organizations

- KEY POINTS TO MAKE

- Today the Bureau released a request for information to assist the Taskforce on Federal Consumer Financial Law. The comment period will remain open for 45 days.
- Taskforce members will examine the existing legal and regulatory environment facing consumers and financial service providers and report recommendations on ways to improve and strengthen consumer financial laws and regulations to Director Kraninger.

- The Taskforce expects to take one full year in order to produce new research and legal analysis of consumer financial laws in the United States, focusing specifically on:
 - harmonizing, modernizing, and updating the enumerated consumer credit laws—and implementing regulations;
 - identifying gaps in knowledge that should be addressed through research, ways to improve consumer understanding of markets and products; and
 - potential conflicts or inconsistencies in existing regulations and guidance.
- The Taskforce is committed to transparency and soliciting input from the public. The questions in the RFI were informed by feedback from trade and consumer groups on March 12, and the issuance of an RFI is only one of a few opportunities for the public to provide recommendations for their work.

High-level background

- Historical background:
 - The taskforce is in part inspired by an earlier commission established by the Consumer Credit Protection Act (Act) in 1968. In addition to various changes to consumer law generally, the Act established a national commission to conduct original research and provide Congress with recommendations relating to the regulation of consumer credit. The commission's report contains original empirical data, information, and analyses—all of which undergird the report's final recommendations. The data, findings, and recommendations from the commission were all made public and the report led to significant legislative and regulatory developments in consumer finance.

Post Rollout Schedule

- A public event is tentatively scheduled for June 16, 2020. The Taskforce has tentative plans to share what was heard at the March 12, 2020 Listening Session and from RFI respondents.
- During the June Advisory Committee meetings, the Taskforce will engage with the committees to share what has been heard from interested parties to date, and will seek additional input before transitioning to developing recommendations.

External Affairs will be submitting a separate memorandum recommending that on the day the Bureau releases the RFI, or as soon thereafter as possible, the Bureau issue a press release regarding the RFI.
