Objective

The primary objective of this meeting is to provide you with an overview of the Taskforce on Federal Consumer Financial Law's (Taskforce) Public Hearing and to discuss your participation in the event.

Timing Considerations

The Public Hearing is scheduled for July 16 from 3 P.M. to 5 P.M. EST. You should join the WebEx meeting at 2:45 P.M.

Background

On July 16, during Consumer Financial Protection Week, the Taskforce will hold a two-hour Public Hearing from 3pm - 5pm as part of its on-going public outreach efforts. The Taskforce is committed to collecting outside input from a variety of sources to help inform its two-volume report. Earlier Taskforce outreach efforts involved a meeting with consumer groups and trade associations on March 10, 2020, and a formally issued Request for Information (RFI). The consumer week Public Hearing will be preceded by a meeting with the Conference of State Banking Supervisors on July 15 and will be followed by meetings throughout the remainder of the summer and fall with the fed regulators, National Association of Attorneys General, and the Bureau's advisory committees.

The July 16 public hearing will be a WebEx based discussion open to the public (and media). The Taskforce members will interact with a panel of four experts in the field of consumer finance and consumer protection hailing from academia. Panel members are a diverse group of individuals who represent a range of views from both the consumer and marketplace perspectives. Panelists will give opening comments and answer questions posed by the Taskforce.

You are scheduled to participate in this public hearing. Taskforce members, guest panelists, you, Matt Cameron, and staff support will access a WebEx greenroom at 2:45pm, and an operator will add us to the public room two minutes prior to the start of the event. Matt Cameron will call the meeting to order and outline the meeting agenda before turning it over to you to deliver five minutes of remarks. At the end of your remarks, you will turn the meeting over to the Taskforce Chair, Todd Zywicki.
